Newsletter March 2021

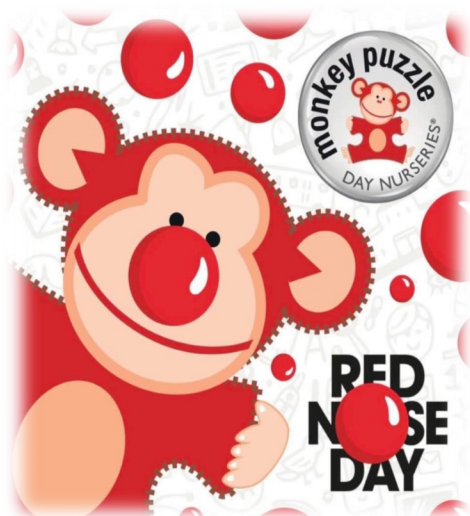

Office

March 2021 was very different from the same month in 2020. Last year in March we had just entered our very first lockdown and the Prime Minister, Boris Johnson, had tested positive for COVID-19. We were really staring into the unknown and no-one could have believed that a year on we would still be fighting this horrible virus.

However, In total contrast to last year there does seem to be some cautious optimism in the air and Monkey Puzzle Uxbridge is now firmly back to pre COVID capacity levels. The Prime Minister is also fighting fit and honored us by officially opening our sister nursery Monkey Puzzle Greenford. The Prime Minister thanked Monkey Puzzle Uxbridge for all our efforts over the past year and it was wonderful that some of our Uxbridge children and staff team were able to join us. There was some great media footage and the Prime Minister was amazing with everyone! He also, promised to visit Uxbridge later in the year!

The UK vaccine programme continues to go at an amazing world beating pace with over 32 million people receiving their first jab! The road map that the government has published is rightly cautious but will allow us to open back up our society and enjoy the things we always took for granted. Of course, we will continue to monitor and review our COVID policies and we once again would like to thank all parents for respecting and following all the additional measures we have put in place. In particular at drop off and pick-up time which continues to work well.

Supporting charities

This month we supported Red Nose day with our very own nursery activities! As with all charities, the red nose foundation do an amazing job raising money for this worthwhile cause.

We were delighted to help and raised a grand total of £300! Thank you so much for all your kind donations.

PRIME MINISTERS SPECIAL!

We were delighted to have our Prime Minister officially open our brand new nursery in Greenford. The Prime Minister was joined by Andrea Leadsom and the Sky news presenter, Beth Rigby.

Teenies

World book day!

The love of books. All the Team and children enjoyed dressing up as book characters to celebrate World Book day 2021! 📖 📚

British science week

British Science Week celebrates science, technology, engineering and maths. Our little Einsteins loved all the hands on practical experiments during science week. We love hearing all their questions and providing opportunities to those young inquisitive minds! 🧪 🔬 🚀 🌌

St David's day

1st March marks the welsh celebration of the patron saint of Wales, St. David. St. David's Day is commemorated by wearing daffodils or leeks. Both plants are traditionally regarded as national emblems of Wales. The children were in for a special treat as they arrived this morning. The rooms were splashed in colour from the beautiful daffodils 🌼 🌱

St Patricks Day!

A fun filled day celebrating St.Patrick’s Day down at Monkey Puzzle Uxbridge 🍀🍀🍀
